

PRESS RELEASE

Trawell Co. wins an exclusive seven-year contract for the new Jorge Chavez International Airport in Lima, Peru.

Gallarate, January 30, 2024 – TraWell Co S.p.A. (Italian Stock Exchange, TWL, OTCQX New York, TRWAF), a global leader in luggage protection, storage, and traveler services ("Trawell" or the "Company"), announces that it has won the contract for luggage protection services at the New Jorge Chavez International Airport in Lima, Peru for seven years.

Trawell Co. operates through its wholly owned subsidiary Safe Bag Latam Perú, providing integrated traveler assistance services at Lima's existing international terminal until December 2024.

Trawell Co. has been selected to manage four strategically located point-of-sales in the Check-In area of the new airport, which will become operational in January 2025. This new commitment aligns with the ongoing strategy to diversify service offerings and strengthens the position as a leader in luggage protection services in South America.

Rudolph Gentile, CEO of Trawell Co., stated: "This contract represents a significant growth opportunity for Trawell Co. and demonstrates our commitment to providing high-quality services and enhancing passenger satisfaction and security."

The success in securing this contract confirms the long-term partnership with the airport management company LAP, built on mutual trust and shared goals. With its expansion to three times the current area, along with the second runway and new control tower, the Lima airport aims to become the main hub in South America, offering a capacity of up to 40 million passengers.
